Château de Haute-Serre

*Great wine
are not born by chance, nor on just any soil...*

Château de Haute-Serre, a historic vineyard dating back to the 16th century, is an exception in the heart of the Cahors appellation. Located at an altitude of 300 metres, on Kimmeridgian clay-limestone plateaus, it is distinguished by a combination of exceptional geological characteristics: blue clay veins and siderolithic iron concretions. This natural alchemy and virtuoso terroir give rise to excellent French Malbecs with silky, perfectly chiselled tannins.

Limestone

A RARE TERROIR IN THE APPELLATION

- Boundary of the Cahors appellation
- Terraces of the Lot Valley (Mindel period – 450,000 years ago)
- Limestone plateau (100 to 300 metres above sea level)
- Kimmeridgian Plateau (- 150 million years ago)
- Kimmeridgian and siderolithic plateau

ICÔNE

The 'Icône' cuvée comes from a densely planted plot (6,060 vines per hectare) and benefits from rare and sought-after subsoil rich in blue clay. The vines are tended with precision and each bunch is monitored throughout its ripening process. This work produces a Malbec of unrivalled finesse with aromas of ripe fruit and spices.

Grand Malbec

THE QUINTESSENCE
OF FRENCH MALBEC

Born from an intra-plot selection on the blue clay vein, this cuvée comes from high-density plantings (6,065 vines/ha), expertly braided and meticulously tended. Each vine is individually chosen and limited to five clusters.

The deep purple hue reveals an intense nose of ripe plum, red berries, blackcurrant, and fine spices.

On the palate, silky tannins and precise acidity carry a structure that balances power and finesse. The long, saline, and radiant finish reflects the timeless elegance of Château de Haute-Serre.

A portion of our Malbecs is aged in amphora to preserve the grape's natural purity and finesse. Thanks to its egg-shaped design and the porosity of terracotta, the amphora provides gentle micro-oxygenation without adding any woody notes.

The natural movement of the wine inside the rounded vessel keeps the lees in suspension, bringing texture and harmony. This type of ageing reveals precise fruit expression, silky structure, and remarkable freshness. An ancestral method serving a modern and elegant interpretation of Malbec.

Géron Dadine

A valiant protector and owner of the estate in the 16th century, Géron Dadine lends his name to this cuvée. Made exclusively from high-density vineyards, this deep wine with spicy notes reveals elegant, silky tannins that are perfectly chiselled, the hallmark of the estate's excellence.

Georges

The 'Georges' cuvée pays tribute to the pioneer and visionary Georges Vigouroux, who, by rehabilitating the historic Haute-Serre vineyard in 1971, was able to recognise the potential of this terroir, a hotspot of biodiversity. The grapes, sourced from the estate's finest plots, produce a wine with silky tannins and aromas of spices and black fruits.

Prunelard 127

OPUSCULE DE HAUTE-SERRE

Through this rare and ancient grape variety, the 'father' of Malbec, Bertrand-Gabriel Vigouroux explores a new facet of the Haute-Serre terroir. This 100% Prunelard is the result of work begun 10 years ago on the estate. An unexpected and exceptional wine with notes of cooked prunes, pepper and garrigue on very silky tannins.

Pinot Noir 127

OPUSCULE DE HAUTE-SERRE

The king of fine wine grape varieties, Pinot Noir finds its place on plot 127 of the Château de Haute-Serre. The similarity in character between the Kimmeridgian limestone soils of Vosne-Romanée and Haute-Serre makes it obvious to explore the grape variety and its expressions. Notes of bright fresh fruit and coffee, accompanied by mellow, elegant tannins, offer a beautiful interpretation of Pinot Noir.

Château de Mercuès

MALBEC DESTINATION

A sacred setting and true haven of peace in Occitania, the Château de Mercuès overlooks the Lot from its vertiginous cliff and dazzles with its splendour. A majestic place steeped in history, this emblematic 800-year-old château, a mecca of hospitality since its origins, invites you on a unique journey in France, to the heart of the great Malbecs.

A Relais & Châteaux wine estate, Château de Mercuès offers breathtaking views of its vineyards, which stretch across the gravelly hilltops surrounding the third terraces of the Lot Valley, with their highly coveted Mindel soils (ancient Quaternary). The planting density is as high as 6,666 vines per hectare, giving its Malbecs velvety tannins.

Icône

The 'Icône' cuvée is the result of an intra-parcel selection planted at high density, and its vinification is carried out with meticulous care and precision in order to produce an exceptional cuvée: seductive, powerful with fine, velvety tannins

THE WINEMAKER MASTERPIECE

Pigmentum is the work of a winemaker who is passionate about his region of origin: Occitania. Drawing inspiration from the beauty and richness of nature, for over 20 years he has been expressing his creative force by giving colour the art of illustrating the richness of Occitan grape varieties. Pigmentum is a wine that is both elegant and powerful, with a rich bouquet and a long finish.

Domaine DE TOURNELLES

Domaine de Tournelles is a small 15-hectare vineyard located on the edge of the Buzet appellation in Calignac, between Garonne and Gascony. The vines flourish on rolling hillsides rich in honey-producing vegetation.

On a rocky clay-limestone plateau, the vineyard overlooks the Garonne valley. Influenced by the ocean, the climate is mild and temperate. The vineyard rubs shoulders with the various fruit crops in the surrounding area and is close to the region's rich biodiversity. At the top of the valleys, the clay-limestone terroir combined with plenty of sunshine allows the grapes to reach their ideal maturity.

Château LERET MONPEZAT

Backed by the plateau and nestled in the heart of the valley's fourth and oldest terrace, the Château Leret Monpezat offers breathtaking views of one of the most impressive meanders of the Lot, stretching majestically from Albas to Belaye. This privileged location is owned by Count Jean-Baptiste de Monpezat and his family, who chose it specifically for its rare and sought-after terroir, consisting of limestone scree cones mixed with very ancient alluvial deposits dating back more than 500,000 years. Under the expert eye of Bertrand-Gabriel Vigouroux, consultant in viticulture and oenology, this exceptional terroir offers finesse and breadth to the wines.
